PART 1

This is a story about Sid, a beautiful black cat, who was always really hungry and liked eating very much.

Sid lived at number one, Aristotle Street.

He also lived at number two, number three, number four, number five and number six.

Sid had six homes, so he had six dinners! Every evening, after dinner at number one, Sid went to number two for a different dinner. And then to number three, number four, number five and number six for another delicious dish.

PART 2

Nobody knew Sid had six dinners. It was his secret.

But Sid worked hard for his dinners. He remembered a different name in each house. His name was Prince at number 1, at number 2 Bob, at number 3 Scamp, at number 4 Manny, at number 5 Cuddles and at number 6 Freddy. He had different owners with different names at each house.

PART 3

Sid worked hard for his dinners. He remembered six different ways to behave. As Prince he was good. As Bob he chased mice. As Scamp he did tricks and as Manny he played with a ball. As Cuddles, he cuddled up to his owner and as Freddy he was fierce.

PART 4

It was hard work for Sid, but he didn't mind because he had his six dinners, and his owners scratched him in six different places. At number 1, Peggy scratched Prince on his neck, at number 2, Bert scratched Bob on his head. At number 3, Sam scratched Scamp on his shoulders. At number 4, Matt scratched Manny on his back, at number 5, Carol scratched Cuddles on his stomach, at number 6, and Frank scratched Freddy on his chest.

PART 5

It was hard work for him but he didn't mind because he had six dinners and the six owners gave him six different nice beds. Where did he sleep?

At number 1, Peggy gave him an armchair, at number 2, Bert gave him a cupboard. At number 3, Sam gave him a sofa. At number 4, Matt gave him a rug, at number 5, Carol gave him a box, at number, and at number 6, Frank gave him a basket.

PART 6

But one day Sid had a bad cold. So Peggy, the lady, at number one took him to the vet.

Poor Sid didn't go to the vet just once... or twice, but six times!

He went with six different people, in six different ways. Peggy at number one took him to the vet on foot, at number 2, Bert took him by taxi. At number 3, Sam took him by bicycle. At number 4, Matt took him by car, at number 5, Carol took him by bus, and at number 6, Frank took him in his van.

PART 7

The vet gave Sid some medicine. But Sid didn't have the medicine ... just once or twice... or three times... or four times ... or five times ... but six times.

Peggy, at number 1 gave Prince some medicine, Bert, at number 2 gave Bob some medicine, Sam, at number 3 gave Scamp some medicine, Matt at number 4 gave Manny some medicine, Carol, at number 5 gave Cuddles some medicine and Frank at number 6 gave Freddy some medicine. So Sid took some medicine six times. Did he like it?

PART 8

At the end of the day, the vet looked in his book. He was surprised to see there were six black cats with a bad cold, all living in Aristotle Street. So he phoned six times ..., he phoned Peggy at number 1, Bert, at number 2, Sam at number 3, Matt at number 4, Carol at number 5 and Frank at number 6. Sid's owners were angry with him. Now they knew his secret. 'Only one dinner a day now,' they said. But Sid was a six dinner cat... So he went to live at number 1, at Peggy's house. But he also went to live at numbers two, three, four, five and six. In Aristotle Street people talked more, so they all knew about Sid's six dinners. But they didn't mind. And Sid was very happy.
