EVALUATION

Evaluation is done by reflecting on the process and by looking at the results.

We suggest that T takes notes as they monitor pair and group work and highlights good usage instead of highlighting problems. We recommend using 3.4 Evaluation Sheet. We suggest that T collects Ls' work all through the module and uses 5.5 Feedback Form and 5.5 Module Assessment Sheet. We also recommend that T encourages celebrations of Ls' performances all through the module.

SUGGESTIONS

Ls engage in many different interactions, often with complicated patterns, so it is very important that you carefully think through your classroom management for each lesson for your own situation. It also implies that your Ls will need to be familiar with various interaction patterns possible in a classroom such as pairwork, groupwork, group presentations, mingling, multi tasking, wall activity. You cannot introduce all these in one go.

PROCEDURE

LESSON 1: ACTIVITIES SURVEY

AIMS OF THE LESSON	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ To start preparing linguistically for the major communicative activities of the module (fair, programmes) by collecting names of activities ■ collecting, organising and presenting information related to activities
MATERIALS AND RESOURCES	Post-its, markers, wrapping paper or flipchart paper, Blu-Tack, 1.4.B Task Sheet, optional: OHT, OHT markers, OHP

STAGE 1	Grouping – Head, hand, foot
TARGET GROUP	For groups where there are little differences and no one or only very few pupils need special support from other Ls
TIME	3 mins
SKILLS AND COMPETENCIES IN FOCUS	Vocabulary
ORGANISATION	Whole class
AIDS AND MATERIALS	Post-its, marker

TEACHER'S ACTIVITIES

- 1 T goes around in the class and points at each student giving them one of these words each: head, hand, foot, then asks all Ls with the same word to gather together somewhere in the classroom, thus forming three groups.
2. In large classes where dividing them into three groups would result in more than max. 6 Ls in one group, divide groups formed into sub-groups.

LEARNERS' ACTIVITIES

- 1 Ls find other Ls with the same word and sit down together. They draw the part of body or write the word on post-it, which they will wear to show which poster group they belong to.

VARIATION FOR GROUPS WHERE SOME LS NEED HELP FROM OTHER LS

AIDS AND MATERIALS	Word or drawing on post-it for each L
DESCRIPTION	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Before the class, the T draws or writes the words head, hand and foot on as many pieces of post-it paper as there are Ls in the class dividing the class in three approximately equal parts. They give out cards to individuals, carefully choosing group members who will be able to support each other. 2. In large classes where dividing them into three groups would result in more than max. 6 Ls in one group, divide groups formed into sub-groups.

STAGE 2. A Collecting and eliciting vocabulary – Activities posters

TARGET GROUP For groups that can collect enough activities without the T's help

TIME 12 mins

SKILLS AND COMPETENCIES IN FOCUS Following simple directions
Activating Ls' knowledge of the topic and incorporating new items

ORGANISATION Groupwork

AIDS AND MATERIALS Wrapping paper or flipchart paper, markers

TEACHER'S ACTIVITIES

- 1 T asks groups of different body parts to trace group members' hand, foot or head on the wrapping paper gently with light colours (e.g. orange, grey, light blue, yellow). It is a good idea to be near the group with the word 'head' and supervise. Make sure that they keep their eyes closed for safety and that they are very careful and gentle.
- 2 T asks the groups to collect on the wrapping paper as many activities as they can think of that can be related to their part of body (e.g. drawing: hand or head, travelling: foot or head). The same activity can appear in different posters, since a lot of activities can be connected to more parts of body. Ls should use darker colour markers for writing the words against the background of their traced body parts. T encourages drawings to go with activities.
- 3 T supervises and helps as needed.

LEARNERS' ACTIVITIES

- 1 Ls trace each other's hand, foot or head.
- 2 Ls brainstorm and write words on the poster + drawing if they like.
E.g. swimming, walking, reading, dancing, watching films/tv, listening to music, playing computer games, jogging, travelling, studying, doing homework, cleaning, drawing, painting, sewing, writing emails, doing the washing up, visiting friends, going out, eating, etc.

STAGE 2. BTARGET GROUP For groups where Ss can not come up with enough words to work with later onTIME 12 minsSKILLS AND COMPETENCIES

TEACHER'S ACTIVITIES

- 1 T asks Ls to put posters up on the walls, then taking a marker, (s)he asks them to walk around and tick activities they like, no tick to activities they do not like, and an unhappy face to ones they really hate + add missing activities they can think of.
- 2 T encourages Ls to find Ls from poster groups to ask them about words they may not know on the posters. Ss need to wear their poster group post-it signs (as in 1).

LEARNERS' ACTIVITIES

- 1 Ls walk around on their own and tick activities + add some as needed.
- 2 Ls help Ls from a different poster group with words they may not know.

VARIATION FOR GROUPS WITH SIGNIFICANT LEVEL DIFFERENCE IN MEMBERS

SKILLS AND COMPETENCIES IN FOCUS	Giving some simple, factual information in a group presentation
ORGANISATION	Group work
AIDS AND MATERIALS	Ls' posters, paper or OHT, markers or OHT markers, Blu-Tack, OHP if possible

Activities people like (how many?)
Activities people do not like (how many?)
Activities people hate (how many?)
- 2 T explains that Ls will give a group presentation and everybody should participate. They should make a visual aid, a graph or chart. T draws possible versions on board (e.g. a graph, a pie chart and a bar chart) and gives out OHT's or A3 paper or allocates board area.
- 3 T puts these evaluation criteria on the board and explains as needed:
Did we understand? Why (not)?
Was your visual aid clear? Why (not)?
Did you all take part in it? How?
- 4 T monitors, helps and manages.

LEARNERS' ACTIVITIES

- 4 In their groups, Ls tally ticks on their posters. Ls prepare and rehearse their presentation, make a visual aid like a graph or a chart.
E.g. "In our class swimming is the favourite sport. 15 people like it. 14 people like dancing. It is funny but 3 people like doing their homework. Nobody likes washing up."

TEACHER'S ACTIVITIES

- 5 After presentations, T prompts self- and peer evaluation and gives feedback using the above criteria.

Any member of the team can shout a word. Teams take turns until the “ball drops” – that is, when a team mentions an object that is not at all related to the activity or if a team cannot name any more objects in 10 seconds. In this case, a point goes to the other team. Then you “serve” again by naming a different activity.
